

YOUNG CORBETT NOW OUT OF RING

Announces at End of Second
Defeat by Nelson That He Will Retire.

DANE YEARNING FOR FIGHT

Says He Will Whip Britt and
Then West Championship
From Gans.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—"I am through with the fighting game," was Young Corbett's announcement Tuesday night as he left the arena of Woodward's pavilion, a badly battered pugilist, after being for nine rounds of the exciting and at times furious fight, of which he was the champion, of Wallace at the hands of Battling Nelson.

Of those who saw the fight, there is hardly one to doubt the Denver boy's wisdom in retiring from the roped arena, at least so far as the Battling game is concerned.

Notwithstanding the report of Corbett's superior condition as compared with his form when he met Nelson last November, Tuesday night's fight was almost a repudiation of the previous encounter between the two.

That Nelson's great performance made a deep impression on the local fans is undeniable, and many of them have now switched around and believe that the Dane will whip Jimmy Britt if they meet this month.

Nelson himself appears to think there is no doubt whatever of his ability to beat Britt and even Joe Gans.

After the bout, Nelson said: "I can whip any man easily. I can beat any man who will hit me with any amount of power that I can do so. I can whip any lightweight in the world."
